Two yellow triangular warning signs are shown at the top. The left sign depicts a hand being struck by a lightning bolt, indicating an electrical hazard. The right sign shows a person lifting a box labeled 'kg' with a lightning bolt, indicating a heavy load or mechanical hazard. Below these signs is a large rectangular area representing a control panel or screen, surrounded by eight circular icons. The top-left and top-right icons show a hand being struck by a lightning bolt (electrical hazard) with a red prohibition symbol (a circle with a diagonal line) over them. The bottom-left and bottom-right icons show a hand being struck by a lightning bolt (electrical hazard) with a blue prohibition symbol (a circle with a diagonal line) over them. The middle-left and middle-right icons show a hand being struck by a lightning bolt (electrical hazard) with a blue prohibition symbol (a circle with a diagonal line) over them. The bottom-center icon shows a hand being struck by a lightning bolt (electrical hazard) with a blue prohibition symbol (a circle with a diagonal line) over it.
